If You Were Charged Overdraft Fees by Wells Fargo for a Transaction with Uber or Lyft, You May Be Eligible for a Payment from a Class Action Settlement.

A $10,536,098 Settlement has been reached in a class action lawsuit that alleges that Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. improperly assessed overdraft fees arising from non-recurring transactions for Uber or Lyft rides by customers who did not opt into the Bank's Debit Card Overdraft Service. Wells Fargo denies any wrongdoing or liability, and the Court has not decided who is right.

Who's Included? Wells Fargo's records show you are a likely member of the Settlement Class. The Court decided that the Settlement Class includes all present and former holders of checking or savings accounts ("Demand Deposit Accounts") with Wells Fargo who were not opted into Wells Fargo's Debit Card Overdraft Service at the end of a month in which they were charged an overdraft fee by Wells Fargo for a debit card transaction with Uber or Lyft from January 1, 2014, to February 28, 2018.

What Are the Settlement Terms? Wells Fargo has agreed to establish a Settlement Fund of $10,536,098 from which Settlement Class Members will receive payments. Once the Court approves the Settlement, each Settlement Class Member will automatically receive a payment by check for his or her portion of the Net Settlement Fund. There is no need to file a claim. The Net Settlement Fund will be divided among the Settlement Class Members in accordance with the terms of the Settlement Agreement. The Net Settlement Fund is the amount after fees, costs, an award to the Class Representative, and Administration Expenses are paid from the Settlement Fund of $10,536,098. The Settlement provides that Class Counsel may seek up to 33.33% of the Settlement Amount, or $3,511,681, to reimburse Class Counsel for attorneys' fees, that Class Counsel may seek out-of-pocket costs, and that the Class Representative may seek $10,000 as a Service Award. Applications for these payments will be filed by Tuesday, October 12, 2021, and available at the website below. Administration Expenses are estimated to be $312,615.57.

Your Rights May Be Affected. If you do not want to be legally bound by the Settlement, you must exclude yourself from the Settlement Class by November 2, 2021. If you do not timely exclude yourself, you will release your claims against Wells Fargo, Uber, Lyft, and related "Released Parties," and you will not be able to sue these entities for any claim relating to the overdraft fees for Uber and/or Lyft transactions. If you exclude yourself, which is sometimes called "opting out" of the Class, you won't get any automatic payment. If you stay in the Settlement Class, you may object to the Settlement in writing by November 2, 2021.

Final Approval Hearing. The Court will hold a hearing at 1:30 p.m. on November 17, 2021, in Department 3 of the First Street Courthouse, 191 First Street, San Jose, CA 95113. Class Members may appear at the Final Approval Hearing either in person in the courtroom or by telephone call via CourtCall. Class Members who wish to appear by CourtCall should contact Class Counsel at least three days before the hearing, if possible, to arrange a telephonic appearance. Any CourtCall fees for an appearance by an objecting Class Member will be paid by Class Counsel. At the hearing, the Court will consider whether to approve the Settlement and Class Counsel's request for attorneys' fees, plus expenses and the Class Representative's Service Award. Unless you opt out of the Settlement, you may appear at the hearing, but you are not required to attend. You may also hire your own attorney, at your own expense, to appear or speak for you at the hearing.
